TORQEEDO SPONSORS CHARLESTON RACE WEEK

Charleston Race Week is quickly becoming the 'go to' regatta. This year's event, held in South Carolina April 18-21, is shaping up to include a record number of entrants. One new face is electric outboard manufacturer Torqueedo, joining this year as a sponsor and race participant.

Sailors are discovering that Torqueedo's electric outboards are the perfect choice for their boats. During Race Week, Torqueedo staff will have motors on hand to give participants and spectators the opportunity to discover for themselves the revolutionary benefits of a well-designed electric outboard.

"As a regatta specializing in smaller, one-design boats, Charleston Race Week is the ideal place to increase Torqueedo's visibility in the sailing world," said Steve Trkla, head of Torqueedo's North America division. "We're proud to sponsor this event."

Charleston Race Week offers sailors an affordable, dynamic and fun race week experience in a beautiful city. The three days of racing include inshore harbor and offshore courses. The regatta is open to one-design, PHRF and IRC racing sailboats 22-70' in length.
